

7 Questions for Your Plan to Prosper

Your career does not have to be a life sentence; you do not have to feel trapped and unfulfilled. The Reactor Factor gives you renewed focus and strength to create the life and career you want. Write your answer after each of the following seven questions.

How is your industry doing?
Good or bad?

---

---

---

When was the last time you went on the web site & read company press releases?

---

---

---

Did you read the company's annual report if you work for a public company?

---

---

---

Do you plan regular meetings with your leader to find out their perspective of the company and of you?

---

---

---

Do you independently determine the skills needed to make you indispensable?

---

---

---

Are you constantly polishing your skills to be a better person and employee?

---

---

---

Do you hold yourself accountable for every decision, outcome, success, and failure you have on your job?

---

---

---

